UN Commission on the Status of Women CSW64
United Nations, New York City, March 9-20, 2020

PURPOSE: 25-year review and appraisal of “Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action” adopted September 4-15, 1995. Read online: Brief history and Beijing Declaration at: UNwomen.org. Go to: “Commission on the Status of Women” and “Brief history” and “CSW64/Beijing+25 (2020)”

Registration: October 9, 2019 through January 27, 2020

Eligibility to register: Up to 20 representatives can be designated by each NGO which has consultative status with UN ECOSOC (Economic and Social Council). That means Servas International can designate up to 20 reps.

How Servas members register to attend the Commission. Each representative must submit his/her own registration online AND have a letter of approval from Servas International.

- Go to UNwomen.org; Go to: “Commission on the Status of Women”; Go to: “NGO participation”; Go to: “Registration” and complete the information requested.
- After you complete the application, submit a request to the SI Peace Secretary, Paige LaCombe, with a short statement of why you want to attend: lacombepaige@gmail.com). Complete the application and send your request to Paige by Dec 31, 2019.
- You will need a UN grounds pass to attend CSW64. SI Reps to the UN and SI Peace Secretary already have passes; Others need to request a UN grounds pass at the ECOSOC office in NY with a government-issued photo ID and a letter from SI. This is in addition to the application to attend CSW64. After Paige has approved your registration, she will submit the paperwork for grounds pass and send it to you.
- If you need hosting in the New York area, please check the US Servas host list. If you plan to stay more than 2 days, be sure to request that of hosts.
- After the commission, please submit a short report to Paige to share with Servas membership.
